eForce Compliance Obtains e-Steward Certification

eForce Compliance is pleased to officially announce they have received the e-Stewards certification. The e-Stewards program works actively with the Basel Action Network (BAN) in an effort to confront the growing e-waste crisis in the United States and across the globe. In 2010 BAN transitioned their awareness efforts into an independently audited fully certified program that establishes e-recycling best practices for toxic materials. eForce Compliance is one of only three e-Stewards certified electronic recyclers in the State of Pennsylvania and the only recycler to achieve certifications in both R2 and e-Stewards.

Under this certification, eForce will adhere to the stringent e-waste standards that prohibits all toxic waste from being disposed of in solid waste landfills and requires full compliance with international hazardous waste treaties for exports and imports of electronics. Specifically, e-Stewards certification prohibits the export of hazardous waste from developed to developing countries, which is a growing problem in the electronic business.
